

NORTHFIELD & VALE RETAIL GROUP

Marketing Campaign & Brand Performance Summary

Period: Q3 2024 (July-September) | Prepared by: Brand Marketing Team | Date Issued: October

14, 2024

1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Q3 2024 marked the launch of the Fall Collection across Apparel & Footwear, supported by the largest single-quarter marketing investment of the year ($3.6 million in media spend). Overall brand awareness (aided) rose to 61% in tracked markets, up from 57% in Q2 2024, per the quarterly YouGov brand tracker.

2. CAMPAIGN OVERVIEW

2.1 "Fall Forward" Campaign (August 1 - September 15): Multi-channel campaign spanning paid social, connected TV, and in-store signage, anchored by the StrideLine running shoe and TrailBlazer rain shell. Media spend: $2.4 million. Attributed revenue: $9.7 million (4.0x ROI). 2.2 Back-to-School Push (July 15 - August 25): Focused on FlexFit performance leggings and UrbanFlex denim jacket bundles targeted at college-age shoppers via Instagram and TikTok. Media spend: $0.9 million. Attributed revenue: $3.1 million (3.4x ROI). 2.3 Loyalty Member Early-Access Event (September 5-8): Exclusive 48-hour early access to Fall Collection for loyalty members. Drove 142,000 loyalty program sign-ups during the event window, the largest single-event sign-up total of 2024 to date.

3. CHANNEL PERFORMANCE

- Paid social (Instagram, TikTok, Meta): $1.4 million spend, 3.8x ROI, strongest performer among 18-34 demographic.
- Connected TV / streaming: $1.1 million spend, 2.9x ROI, strongest among 35-54 demographic.
- Search / retargeting: $0.6 million spend, 5.1x ROI, highest efficiency channel this quarter.
- In-store signage and events: $0.5 million spend, not directly attributed but correlated with a 6% lift in store foot traffic during campaign windows.

4. PRODUCT-LEVEL PERFORMANCE HIGHLIGHTS

The StrideLine running shoe was the top-selling SKU of the quarter by unit volume despite the sizing complaints flagged by Customer Experience (see Apparel & Footwear Q3 complaint summary). Marketing has coordinated with Customer Experience to add a sizing-advisory callout to all StrideLine ad creative starting in October. The TrailBlazer rain shell saw above-forecast demand in the Northeast and West regions ahead of the fall weather season.

5. CUSTOMER SENTIMENT

Social listening tools recorded a net sentiment score of +42 for the Fall Collection launch, consistent with prior seasonal launches. The most frequently mentioned negative theme was "shoe sizing," accounting for 61% of negative mentions related to the launch, reinforcing the need for the sizing-advisory callout referenced above.

6. COMPETITIVE CONTEXT

Two of the Company's three primary competitors also launched fall apparel campaigns in the same window. Share-of-voice analysis indicates the Company captured 28% of category share- of-voice during the campaign period, up from 24% in the prior-year comparable period.

7. RECOMMENDATIONS FOR Q4

- Extend the sizing-advisory creative treatment to all footwear categories, not just StrideLine.
- Increase search/retargeting budget allocation given superior ROI this quarter.
- Build on loyalty early-access momentum with a similar mechanic for the Holiday campaign.
- Continue coordinated messaging between Marketing and Customer Experience on known product issues to reduce negative sentiment amplification.

This summary is intended for internal distribution to the Executive Leadership Team, Category Management, and Customer Experience.